

SUNDAY SPARKLES AT FOX

Every Sunday from 12 noon

A ROAST TRADITION

The British love of beef, and particularly for lunch on a Sunday is such a part of our national identity that even the French call us "rosbifs"!

The Sunday roast came to prominence during the reign of King Henry VII in 1485 with the royal bodyguards being affectionately known as, "beefeaters" for their love of eating roast beef.

Fast forward a few hundred years its been reported that the tradition of a roast on Sunday taken with family or friends is on the decline??

So here at FOX I thought we should help you get back into the swing of enjoying this time honoured tradition with loved ones and friends, and give you a gift to enjoy a Sunday roast with a glass of Prosecco, on us.

Enjoy our epic Sunday roast at FOX, putting the "sparkle" back into Sundays . . .
